II. THE FEDERAL CASH FOR KIDS JUDGES CONTINUED

1. Judge John E. Stelle

Cases: Moose et al. v. HHS (2:25-cv-00455, Middle District of Florida)

https://www.pacermonitor.com/public/case/58287111/Moose_et_al_v_Health_and_Human_Services_of_the_United_States

& Villarreal et al. v. Roberts et al. (2:25-cv-00367, MDFL)

https://www.pacermonitor.com/public/case/57987839/Villarreal_et_al_v_Roberts__et_al

Case Text: Defendant Stelle is accused of systematically refusing to hear constitutional and child trafficking claims in two federal cases involving the unlawful removal of innocent children from law-abiding parents and their subsequent placement into the custody of unknown individuals. In both matters, a score of Plaintiffs urgently requested injunctive relief and intervention from the U.S. Department of Justice to enforce federally mandated child protection laws. Judge Stelle, however, issued repeated denials, thereby obstructing due process and enabling trafficking operations to persist unchecked. With no signs of life or contact from their children, families have been left in a state of anguish—forced to imagine the worst amidst credible evidence of the largest child trafficking enterprise in modern history. Multiple whistleblowers and survivor testimonies allege that Child Protective Services (CPS) transported busloads of children to properties owned by Sean "Diddy" Combs and Jeffery Epstein where minors were subjected to trafficking, torture, humiliation, and irreversible harm. Many of these children were never returned. They were abandoned, stripped of hope, and separated from their parents—who were deliberately kept in the dark and unable to intervene. Millions of children remain unaccounted for, believed to be trafficked through clandestine networks operating across the United States and abroad, often linked to elite pedophile rings. Judge Stelle's failure to uphold constitutional protections and enforce federal law has directly contributed to this humanitarian crisis, granting de facto immunity to trafficking enterprises by denying injured parties a hearing on the merits. Notably, this judicial misconduct occurs in parallel with escalating global conflict, including what Plaintiffs assert is a premeditated World War III scenario engineered to destabilize the United States and distract from the imminent unsealing of Epstein-related files. These files, such as those in Giuffre v. Maxwell, Case No. 1:15-cv-07433 (S.D.N.Y.), already name high-profile individuals—including Donald Trump—as perpetrators. The refusal of federal judges like Stelle to intervene signals a broader institutional collapse, one that enables state-sanctioned trafficking and violates the fundamental rights of parents, children, and citizens.

Case: Dean et al. v. HHS et al. (2:25-cv-04970, Central District of California)

https://www.pacermonitor.com/public/case/58429856/Alexandra_M_Dean_et_al_v_Health_and_Human_Services_of_the_United_States_et_al

Case Text: Defendant Judge Wright is accused of dismissing the good people's claim alleging that the Health and Human Services and federal agents still continue to engage in medical kidnapping and trafficking of children under Defendant Trump's statutory authority despite his promises to end the weaponization of the government. This suit depicts state-facilitated abductions of citizens and refugees masked as "family intervention," "involuntary commitment," and "immigration." Wright's dismissal—on procedural grounds without substantive review—has enabled the ongoing "Cash for Kids" operations by immunizing federal agents from accountability.

Case: Villarreal v. Biden et al. (No. 2:25-cv-00007, Middle District of Florida)

https://www.pacermonitor.com/public/case/56390683/Villarreal_v_Biden_et_al

Case Text: Defendant Judge Chappell is accused of dismissing the people's emergency RICO claims seeking the release of their offspring from unlawful federal custody. This claim alleges Chappell ignored overwhelming evidence of medical kidnapping, forced removal, and trafficking, thereby dismissing the action for lack of jurisdiction—effectively halting judicial review. In doing so, she facilitated what WE the PEOPLE characterize as state-favored trafficking: children placed into abusive guardians via government channels. By entering a jurisdictional dismissal without addressing the allegations, Judge Chappell is labeled a “Cash for Kids” federal judge—and complicit in domestic child trafficking.

U.S. Marshals arrested a man accused of punchin a newborn before hiding out with family in Texas for months, Southwest Florida Crime Stoppers reported.

Witnesses said they saw Rodriguez hit a 3-month-old with a closed fist, causing skull fractures, sticking his fingernails into the child's neck and throwing heavy toys at the infant.

A news release said the Fort Myers man was charged with aggravated child abuse in July on a bench warrant for child cruelty, and a warrant was issued in October for the aggravated child abuse charge.

4. Judge John L. Badalamenti

Case: B. Villarreal et al. v. Biden et al. (2:24-cv-00993, MDFL)

& Paredes et al. v. Roberts et al. (2:25-cv-00454, MDFL)

https://www.pacermonitor.com/public/case/58309815/Paredes_et_al

Case Text: Defendant Judge Badalamenti is charged with dismissing two separate RICO Claims seeking recovery of their minor offspring removed through medical kidnapping and fraudulent custody proceedings. Both dismissals—one via lack of subject-matter jurisdiction and the other summarily on procedural grounds—have enabled ongoing child alienation schemes. WE the PEOPLE assert that Judge Badalamenti deliberately avoided any substantive inquiry into the trafficking claims, thereby legitimizing "Cash for Kids" arrangements by shielding the perpetrators under the guise of procedural technicalities—just as the Federal 'Cash for Kids' judges did when dismissing the cases of victims seeking protection from the Epstein Enterprise. The plaintiffs have received no indication that their son is still alive in over a year since he was unlawfully taken into state custody. They now fear the worst, as multiple witnesses in the Sean "Diddy" Combs' case have come forward alleging that D.C.F.S. trafficked busloads of children to these so-called "freak-off parties," where the minors were reportedly tortured, mutilated, and murdered—just hours from the plaintiffs' residence.

5. Judge Harvey E. Schlesinger

Case: Dean et al. v. Manhattan Supreme Court et al.: Case No. 3:25-cv-00019, Middle District of Florida.

https://www.pacermonitor.com/public/case/56450340/Dean_v_Manhattan_Supreme_Court_et_al

Case Text: Judge Harvey E. Schlesinger has shown reckless disregard for human dignity and constitutional protections by rubber-stamping dismissals of well-pleaded allegations involving judicial child trafficking, the weaponization of Title IV funding, and the corporate conversion of the American justice system. Rather than investigating the credible and documented grievances of whistleblowers and victimized parents, Defendant Schlesinger used his position to uphold a corrupted hierarchy of untouchable state actors—those directly profiting from the separation and sale of children under the guise of "protective services." In one of the most damning acts of betrayal, Schlesinger dismissed plaintiffs' claims without a hearing, without due process, and without ever addressing the evidence of systemic abuse. He dismissed the courageous pursuit of truth as a "delusion," mocking with contemptuous disregard those who dared to challenge the judicial-industrial complex—like Luigi Mangione, the first man in history to revolt against the A.I.-driven genocide. While thousands of children remain missing under federal custody, Schlesinger's courtroom serves not as a sanctuary for justice but as a fortress for those hiding behind government seals, fictitious immunities, and D-U-N-S numbers. By aiding and abetting the concealment of public corruption, Judge Schlesinger has rendered himself an accomplice to crimes against humanity. He is now formally named as a defendant and co-conspirator in the obstruction of emergency relief for families attempting to locate and liberate their trafficked children. His judicial opinions reveal not impartiality, but complicity—and WE the PEOPLE no longer recognize the legitimacy of his rulings under natural law and the Constitution.
